

Mark Wright

Mark Wright is a trusted risk, health and safety professional committed to preventing harm and enabling high levels of performance. Mark is the Managing Director of FEFO Consulting and the Health & Safety Index.

His career has included work as Non-Executive Director, several senior leadership positions and work over 15 countries across mining, oil & gas, facilities management, construction and utilities.

Mark has a proven track record in leading transformation projects, leadership development, strategy deployment and enabling high performance cultures. He also has strong expertise in Critical Risk Management (CRM), Safety in Design (SiD), contractor management, incident investigations and assurance activities.

Mark previously worked with SafeWork NSW as a Prosecutor and with multi-national companies such as Lend Lease, Transfield Services and Rio Tinto. He has also led many consulting projects with organisations such as Glencore JLL, Boral, Westpac, Australian Institute of Company Directors, WorkSafe NZ, Nine Network and several government agencies. FEFO Consulting's success was recently recognised as a finalist with the Australian Small Business Champion Awards.

Mark has a range of qualifications including Bachelor of Science, Post Graduate Diploma in Safety, lead auditor, ICAM / Comcare investigator and is a Graduate of the Australian Institute of Company Directors (GAICD).